Part-time work during studies

Maximum 1,040 hours per year

01 Complete your studies

Confirm whether your Italian qualification makes you eligible for a job-search residence permit.

02 Explore your post-study route

Eligible graduates may apply to remain and seek employment. Duration and conditions depend on the qualification and rules.

A valid study permit may be converted to a work permit when the applicable employment requirements are met.

04 Plan for long-term residence

The EU long-term residence permit requires five years of regular and continuous residence, a minimum income, and passing the Italian language test. Time spent on a study permit may not be counted, so please check with your local police headquarters.

05 Legal Guidance & Support

Learn Key Italia has an agreement with a law firm to provide students, upon request, with paid legal guidance and assistance with the paperwork required to convert their visa into a residence permit for study purposes, as well as support with subsequent immigration procedures.
